IN THE MEANTIME COUNTRY IS PREPARING TO MEET STRIKE BY LAYING IN SUPPLIES

CARL V. LITTLE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Steps to avert the threatened railroad strike were taken today. Warren S. Stone, head of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers (announced that he and other union leaders had been summoned to Chicago to meet the railroad labor board Thursday. The "war council" of union leaders which was to have been called in Cleveland, has practically been abandoned. President Harding placed the railroad crisis before his cabinet officers at their regular meeting in Washington. The course the government will follow was expected to be decided on at this meeting. It was learned that certain congressmen are prepared to make speeches charging both railroad executives and union heads have seized on the crisis to force the government to grant them concessions they had long sought. The government, it was made known, will not be influenced by either side.

Chicago, Oct. 18—Chiefs of the four big brotherhoods will meet here on Thursday with the labor board members in the first step by the government to prevent the railroad strike set for Oct. 30.

Calls for unions heads to come to Chicago was issued by public members of the board following several days' conference in Washington with President Harding, the interstate commerce commission and other governmental departments.

Telegrams asking the brotherhood heads to come to Chicago were dispatched at the request of the house members who are now enroute to Chicago from Washington to the meeting.

Other members of the board now in Chicago declare they did not know what purpose the public members might have in calling the conference. One director from Washington however declared he believed they were following out the steps desired in high administration circles in trying to prevent the strike.

Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad will be before the board Thursday at a public hearing to show why the Pennsylvania should not be declared violating the board's orders with regard to arranging working agreements with shop men.

The hearing was scheduled before the railroad labor situation became acute.

Organize to Move Merchandise.

St. Paul, Oct. 18—Officials of the Minnesota transfer today organized to move merchandise in case railroads tie up transportation. Twin City firms would haul supplies to central points by motor trucks, from where it would be redistributed.

Union Chiefs Summoned to Chicago.

Cleveland, Oct. 18—The railway brotherhood chiefs today were unexpectedly summoned to a conference with the railway labor board in Chicago on Thursday.

Stone declared he had received a telegram from Chicago requesting his presence there, and that he and W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, would leave for that city soon.

"In view of this fact, I do not believe that either Mr. Shepherd, of the conductors, or Mr. Cashen of the switchmen, will come here at this time," Mr. Stone said.

In addition to making this announcement, Stone today repeated and made more specific his charge that the railroad executives are seeking to force a strike to further a general fight for the "open shop."

"There is no question that this is a move aimed at the destruction of union labor," he said.

While he would not be quoted further on this, Stone gave the impression that the railway brotherhoods today wanted to occupy the position of bulwarks protecting the remainder of organized labor from an onslaught against its existence.

Must Obey Railroad Labor Board

Washington, Oct. 18—President Harding as a means of preventing the threatened railway strike, has decided that railway executives and brotherhood chiefs must be forced to obey the decision of the railroad labor board, it was stated at the White House today.

The president, it was said, was ready for a "shown down" as to whether the board is a useless agency or whether its orders are obeyed.

At the same time it was indicated officially at the White House that an important announcement regarding the rate reductions would be made shortly. Just what is contemplated was not revealed.

What action the president will take to force compliance by both railroads and labor with the board's decision was not indicated.

It was stated that Harding has not yet decided to call a conference of railroad executives and brotherhood chiefs in the strike crisis. The inference was for the present the situation will be left in the hands of the railroad labor board. It was said Harding was ready to back the board to the limit.

Plumb's View of Situation.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 18—"Railway executives are trying to get out from under responsibilities they can not meet and are trying to make the workers the goats," Glen E. Plumb, author of the Plumb plan of railway control, told the United Press today.

"Fearing public wrath because of their inefficiency, the owners are glad to shift the blame on the men," he said.

"The men are not striking against wage cuts, but against the new attitude into which the railroads are forcing them. I believe the strike will go through, but it will last not more than one week, before the government intervenes."

Avert Strike by Government Seizure.

Cleveland, Oct. 17—Seizure of the railroads by the United States government was regarded by the brotherhood chiefs today as the only means of averting a nation-wide transportation tieup.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, voiced this opinion when he said:

"The railroad executives can settle the dispute or the government can prevent a strike. The executives won't talk over the situation and we gave them our final word at the Chicago conference. Taking over of the railroads by the government therefore appears to be the only way of preventing the strike, announced to become effective Oct. 30."

Army Might Help Operate Roads

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 18—A survey of all the men in the eighth army corps area who have had experience in operating or construction of railroads, was made today by officials following orders received from Major General John Hines, area commander.

North Dakota politicians have long been rancorous with personalities but the recall election campaign is witnessing the height of vilifications.

"The house that Bill built" stands in the pretty residence section of Fargo, and, although not in the class of mansions, it might be termed "a nice home."

Independents opposing the nonpartisan league program in the recall election Oct. 28, are trying to bring this house "down around the ears" of the nonpartisan officials. It was built by Wm. Lemke, attorney general, mostly from funds supplied by the home builders' association, a nonpartisan institution of the state government.

Independents claim that the house cost between $11,000 and $18,000 while the law specifies that the issue may run only up to $5,000 for each home. Lemke said he only borrowed $4,000 to built it. Pictures of the house are being used in all independent newspapers in connection with the campaign. ### Judge Landis Considering Expelling Babe Ruth From The American League

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 18.—Baseball magnates today saw a permanent traveling bambino—"outlaw" Babe Ruth—passing out of organized baseball and touring the United States next season with a team of his own.

Judge Landis, monarch of baseball, is considering expelling Babe Ruth from the major league for at least one season because he is playing exhibition games.

The Babe, it was believed here, will organize an "outlaw" team, or even an "outlaw" league set up against the major league and barnstorm the country if he is expelled.

This would pay Ruth more than if he continued under salary with the Yankees. At first it was thought Ruth was bound to fail in war with Landis because players who have defied the rules of baseball and set up an outlaw team have been unable to retain their prestige.

When informed that Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, might decide to suspend him from the league for a year because he is playing exhibition games now in violation of the rules, Babe said: "I will continue to play baseball next year. That is a cinch. If I organize my own team, however, it won't be a team of outlaws. By that I mean players who have been thrown out of the games for gambling and things like that. I won't have anything to do with the former White Sox players who were mixed up in world's series scandal. But my team would be some of the good clean fellow players who are straight but who have jumped from the American League."

Ruth declared he would go right ahead with his present barnstorming, until Nov. 1.

He declared the scope of the Washington conference was gradually shrinking.

"There is no question now of general disarmament," he cried. "The U. S., suffocating beneath the weight of her gold, is seeking new markets and aiming at the far east where it is meeting Japanese competition and colliding with the Anglo-Japanese alliance."

He charged that this situation in the far east was the real reason why America had called a conference to discuss "limitation of armaments and the Pacific question."

ULSTER MOBILIZING TROOPS; IRISH CIVIL WAR IS POSSIBLE

BELFAST GOVERNMENT TAKES STEP CONSIDERED OPEN CHALLENGE TO SINN FEINERS

(By United Press.)

Belfast, Oct. 18.—The Ulster volunteers and its army are mobilizing.

This disastrous step, which threatened to have such a serious consequence in 1914, and which constitutes an open challenge to the Sinn Fein, has been decided upon by the Belfast government, it was announced today because of Britain's failure to prevent Irish troops from drilling.

The stage has now been set for civil war on the largest scale Ireland has ever known should a break in negotiations cause a fight between the north and south to begin.

Catholics in Belfast have long lived in terror of the day when the unionist irregulars should be mobilized and considerable emigration southward across the Boyne was expected to follow the mobilization of volunteers.

Sporadic shooting occurred throughout the night in the North Queen street area, and as a result the "riot act" forbidding assemblage of more than three persons was again enforced today.

The president and Mrs. Harding will make the trip from Washington to Yorktown, Va., on the Mayflower and motor here after breakfast to attend the installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as president of the college.

Historic relics of the men who helped lay the foundations of the nation were seen on every hand here, for William and Mary College was founded by the Virginia colonists in 1693, and is second only to Harvard in age.

Both Royalty and pirates contributed to the founding of the college, according to the archives. King William and Queen Mary gave the college 20,000 acres of land at a yearly rent of two Latin verses. A band of pirates in return for being pardoned by the colonial governor, who was raising the college funds, contributed three hundred pounds.

Three presidents of the United States, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler, attended the college. Chief Justice Marshall, and three other supreme court justices are on the list of students which also boasts of four signers of the Declaration of Independence, twenty-nine U. S. senators, twenty-two governors, three speakers of the house, ten cabinet members, and fifteen members of the Continental Congress.

MORE THAN 2,000 HEARD MISSIONARIES PREACH ON SUNDAY

MISSIONARIES LISTENED TO 52 INSPIRING ADDRESSES AT THE CONFERENCE

MEN IN GATHERING DURING THE WEEK REPRESENTED 1,100 COMMUNITIES

More than 2,000 people heard the missionary addresses on Sunday in Brainerd and the surrounding country.

After listening to 52 addresses the conference missionaries are making their way to their various homes scattered throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana today, after spending the week in discussions upon themes relating to the rural church and Sunday school problems of the Northwest. At noon today the conference came to a close after the most helpful and edifying time that they have ever had together. The discussions were full of vital interest; papers were well prepared and every angle of the rural Sunday school work was approached and helpfully discussed.

The men in conference during the week represent 1,100 communities throughout the states over which they travel, where practically no other agency is reaching them. They are in a very economical, business-like way gathering the children together for Bible study, religious recitation, and moral uplift work.

As the years go by the American Sunday School Union is engaging the attention of more efficient men to work in the ranks and men of larger means to support the cause. Many men of thought and ability in Brainerd are contributing to the support of the work parallel to that being done by our local townsman Rev. Walter J. Smith. Mr. Smith has been on the present field for fifteen years and has now under his care about 50 different points and Sunday schools who look to him as their religious counselor and helper.

The Publication Department of this nationwide society is publishing books and periodicals suitable to meet the needs of the rural districts. This literature is of an interdenominational character, which is passed upon by a committee of laymen representing seven of the Evangelical denominations.

The future of the Sunday school work, according to the reports given by the district superintendent is quite promising indeed. It is easier to establish work in many communities today than before.

As the state is interested in training the children along secular lines, the church is working for the religious training and they are looking toward the interdenominational agencies, such as the American Sunday School Union, to carry the messages to the isolated and otherwise unreachable communities where they cannot go. Churches will develop from these pioneer efforts.

The local churches opened their pulpits to the visiting district superintendents and national secretaries on Sunday, where they were greeted by representative audiences in every instance.

The missionaries are returning to their homes with renewed enthusiasm and a larger vision, and a more determined purpose to do the things that they are commissioned to do after being met and so cordially supported by the business men of Brainerd.

Mr. Ferris reports that these missionaries belong to the churches, they are at the disposal of the churches, and will be very glad to follow up any suggestions that may contribute to the rural life anywhere in the Northwest. And he further states that he solicits counsel from those who may be in a position to help.

This morning the sessions was opened by a devotional conducted by

(By United Press.)

Belfast, Oct. 18.—The Ulster volunteers and its army are mobilizing.

This disastrous step, which threatened to have such a serious consequence in 1914, and which constitutes an open challenge to the Sinn Fein, has been decided upon by the Belfast government, it was announced today because of Britain's failure to prevent Irish troops from drilling.

The stage has now been set for civil war on the largest scale Ireland has ever known should a break in negotiations cause a fight between the north and south to begin.

Catholics in Belfast have long lived in terror of the day when the unionist irregulars should be mobilized and considerable emigration southward across the Boyne was expected to follow the mobilization of volunteers.

Sporadic shooting occurred throughout the night in the North Queen street area, and as a result the "riot act" forbidding assemblage of more than three persons was again enforced today.

HOLDS TROOPS AT BAY

(By United Press.)

Ithaca, Mich., Oct. 18.—Frank Parlovitch, escaped inmate of the Traverse City hospital, today held a posse of state troopers and deputy sheriffs at bay. Parlovitch escaped from the hospital two weeks ago. He was located at his home six miles from here by authorities. Fearing that the man was armed caused troops to lay siege in the house.

Is Captured

Parlovitch was captured here after he had withstood a posse of deputies and state troops from last Saturday. He signalled from his barricaded house that he was willing to give up.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS BREAKING UP HOMES

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 18.—Unemployment is breaking up the homes, causing men to beat their wives and filling the divorce courts with evidence of desertion, Irwin Cooley, chief probation officer of New York, declared today.

Three hundred men have deserted their wives and children in New York city alone in the last month, he said.

"From all parts of the country men and women come to New York with their wives and families looking for work," Cooley said. "There is less work here than in any other place. When the wolf comes to the door love flies out the window."

Soo Line Passenger Collides With Box Cars, Wrecks Parkway Bridge

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Oct. 18.—A Soo Line passenger train from Montreal plowed through the caboose and two box cars of a freight train here today, wrecking the Wheelock parkway bridge. None were hurt. Gliders of the bridge were splintered and parts of the caboose were thrown 20 feet and were hanging from the tottering bridge.

Unsuccessful Attempt Made to Assassinate Noted German Leader

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Oct. 18.—An unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Phil Scheide-mann, leader of the German majority socialists, was made today.

Shots were fired at the former chancellor who escaped without injury.

President Harding to Visit College Which Gave Nation Three Presidents

(By United Press.)

Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 18.—President Harding will walk over the quiet campus which three presidents and many big figures in the nation's history trod as college students, when he comes here tomorrow to speak at William and Mary College.

The president and Mrs. Harding will make the trip from Washington to Yorktown, Va., on the Mayflower and motor here after breakfast to attend the installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as president of the college.

Historic relics of the men who helped lay the foundations of the nation were seen on every hand here, for William and Mary College was founded by the Virginia colonists in 1693, and is second only to Harvard in age.

Both Royalty and pirates contributed to the founding of the college, according to the archives. King William and Queen Mary gave the college 20,000 acres of land at a yearly rent of two Latin verses. A band of pirates in return for being pardoned by the colonial governor, who was raising the college funds, contributed three hundred pounds.

Three presidents of the United States, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler, attended the college. Chief Justice Marshall, and three other supreme court justices are on the list of students which also boasts of four signers of the Declaration of Independence, twenty-nine U. S. senators, twenty-two governors, three speakers of the house, ten cabinet members, and fifteen members of the Continental Congress.

Congressman Young Goes Home to Electioneer

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 18.—Representative George M. Young, republican, of North Dakota, left for his home state today to take the stump in the campaign to bring about the recall of Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lemke and Commissioner of Agriculture Hagan.

Young said he would urge the election of R. A. Nestos for governor, Svenbjorn Johnson for attorney general and Joseph Kitchin for commissioner of agriculture.

Governor Frazier and the other officials against whom the recall campaign is being conducted, were elected to office as candidates of the nonpartisan league. Rep. Young declared that the league is now calling in all radical speakers from other states to campaign for the retention of the present regime.

HITCHCOCK AND JOHNSON SUPPORT PEACE TREATY

FRAZER EDWARDS
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Oct. 18.—Two of the bitterest foes in the league of nations fight—Senator Johnson of California, republican irreconcilable, and Hitchcock, Nebraska democrat, one of the leading league supporters, today opened the final debate on the peace treaty with Germany in the senate with speeches in support of the pact.

Johnson delivered a fiery denunciation of the league and characterized the reparations provision of the Versailles treaty as "revolting to every advocate of future peace and every lover of liberty."

ALBANIAN CABINET QUILTS

(By United Press.)

Tirana, Albania, Oct. 18.—The Albanian cabinet resigned today.

Inability to cope with the situation arising out of the Serbian "invasion" and the insurrection at Miridi was given as the reason.

A cabinet of national defense will probably be organized.

Serbian troops operated at Malesin and Jakova, having sent an ultimatum to the Albanians demanding that they evacuate the territory.

MORE THAN 2,000 HEARD MISSIONARIES PREACH ON SUNDAY

MISSIONARIES LISTENED TO 52 INSPIRING ADDRESSES AT THE CONFERENCE

MEN IN GATHERING DURING THE WEEK REPRESENTED 1,100 COMMUNITIES

More than 2,000 people heard the missionary addresses on Sunday in Brainerd and the surrounding country:

After listening to 52 addresses the conference missionaries are making their way to their various homes scattered throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana today, after spending the week in discussions upon themes relating to the rural church and Sunday school problems of the Northwest. At noon today the conference came to a close after the most helpful and edifying time that they have ever had together. The discussions were full of vital interest; papers were well prepared and every angle of the rural Sunday school work was approached and helpfully discussed.

The men in conference during the week represent 1,100 communities throughout the states over which they travel, where practically no other agency is reaching them. They are in a very economical, business-like way gathering the children together for Bible study, religious recitation, and moral uplift work.

As the years go by the American Sunday School Union is engaging the attention of more efficient men to work in the ranks and men of larger means to support the cause. Many men of thought and ability in Brainerd are contributing to the support of the work parallel to that being done by our local townsman Rev. Walter J. Smith. Mr. Smith has been on the present field for fifteen years and has now under his care about 50 different points and Sunday schools who look to him as their religious counselor and helper.

The Publication Department of this nationwide society is publishing books and periodicals suitable to meet the needs of the rural districts. This literature is of an interdenominational character, which is passed upon by a committee of laymen representing seven of the Evangelical denominations.

The future of the Sunday school work, according to the reports given by the district superintendent is quite promising indeed. It is easier to establish work in many communities today than before.

As the state is interested in training the children along secular lines, the church is working for the religious training and they are looking toward the interdenominational agencies, such as the American Sunday School Union, to carry the messages to the isolated and otherwise unreached communities where they cannot go. Churches will develop from these pioneer efforts.

The local churches opened their pulpits to the visiting district superintendents and national secretaries on Sunday, where they were greeted by representative audiences in every instance.

The missionaries are returning to their homes with renewed enthusiasm and a larger vision, and a more determined purpose to do the things that they are commissioned to do after being met and so cordially supported by the business men of Brainerd.

Mr. Ferris reports that these missionaries belong to the churches, they are at the disposal of the churches, and will be very glad to follow up any suggestions that may contribute to the rural life anywhere in the Northwest. And he further states that he solicits counsel from those who may be in a position to help.

This morning the sessions was opened by a devotional conducted by

AFTERNOON TEA

Served Sunday at Club Rooms of Business and Professional Women's Club

The serving of afternoon tea in the club rooms of the Business and Professional Women's club Sunday provided a pleasant means of drawing
the members together socially. New acquaintances were made, and older
ones ripened into friendship, as the members met and chatted in the cozy club quarters.

Interest centered on the dainty tea
table, with its attractive services of china and silver. Long-stemmed
pink roses in a crystal basket added
to the pleasing effect. Orange Pekoe
tea, hot chocolate, and several varieties of little cakes were served. The hostesses, Miss Engsborg, Miss
Grimes and Miss McColl, were assisted by Mrs. E. G. Roth.

During the afternoon a number of
musical selections were played by Miss Isabel Worden. Miss Jennie
Beck sang "Our Yesterdays" and responded with an encore, "An Old Fashioned Garden." She was accompanied by Miss Worden. Miss Beck
has a very sweet, mellow voice, which
is especially satisfying in chamber
music.

Afternoon tea will be served each
Sunday in the club rooms, different
members acting from time to time as hostesses. It is hoped that all the members will take advantage of the opportunity for knowing each other better that these little gatherings offer.
One new member spoke of the beautiful, friendly spirit she had felt
in the greeting given her by the different ones she met during the afternoon. Mrs. Serviss, when she addressed the members a few weeks
ago, spoke of the harmony she felt
existed in the club, and it would be
a splendid thing if each member
would consider herself a "committee
of one" to carry on that harmony.

Ex-Bavarian King Dead

Berlin, Oct. 18—Former King Ludwig of Bavaria is dead, it was announced here today.

The Beginning
of Brainerd

Fifty-one years ago the Northern Pacific Railroad was surveyed to Crow Wing County. The early pioneers
were clearing the way for the road and building it.
They were developing the logging and lumbering
industry and the beginnings of agriculture.

A town was needed, and so they laid one out along the river, and named it in honor of the wife of Governor J. Gregory Smith; her maiden name was Brainerd.
In naming it they also honored the famous missionary to Indians, David Brainerd.

In 1871 the first train pulled into town. As the railroad grew, it brought the markets and manufacturing
centers closer to Brainerd. And as Brainerd grew,
it began to ship logs, lumber, and farm produce to
the outside world.

In 1873 the town became the seat of Crow Wing
County. And in 1881 it became the county's financial center when this FIRST NATIONAL BANK was organized.

AFTERNOON TEA

Served Sunday at Club Rooms of Business and Professional Women's Club

The serving of afternoon tea in the
club rooms of the Business and Professional Women's club Sunday provided a pleasant means of drawing
the members together socially. New
acquaintances were made, and older
ones ripened into friendship, as the
members met and chatted in the
cozy club quarters.

Interest centered on the dainty tea
table, with its attractive services of
china and silver. Long-stemmed
pink roses in a crystal basket added
to the pleasing effect. Orange Pekoe
tea, hot chocolate, and several varieties of little cakes were served. The hostesses, Miss Engsborg, Miss
Grimes and Miss McColl, were assist-
ed by Mrs. E. G. Roth.

During the afternoon a number of
musical selections were played by Miss Isabel Worden. Miss Jennie
Beck sang "Our Yesterdays" and responded with an encore, "An Old Fashioned Garden." She was accompanied by Miss Worden. Miss Beck
has a very sweet, mellow voice, which
is especially satisfying in chamber
music.

Afternoon tea will be served each
Sunday in the club rooms, different
members acting from time to time as hostesses. It is hoped that all the members will take advantage of the
opportunity for knowing each other better than these little gatherings offer. One new member spoke of the beautiful, friendly spirit she had felt
in the greeting given her by the different ones she met during the afternoon. Mrs. Serviss, when she addressed the members a few weeks
ago, spoke of the harmony she felt
existed in the club, and it would be
a splendid thing if each member
would consider herself a "committee
of one" to carry on that harmony.

The Beginning
of Brainerd

Fifty-one years ago the Northern Pacific Railroad was surveyed to Crow Wing County. The early pioneers
were clearing the way for the road and building it.
They were developing the logging and lumbering
industry and the beginnings of agriculture.

A town was needed, and so they laid one out along
the river, and named it in honor of the wife of Governor J. Gregory Smith; her maiden name was Brainerd.
In naming it they also honored the famous missionary to Indians, David Brainerd.

In 1871 the first train pulled into town. As the railroad grew, it brought the markets and manufacturing
centers closer to Brainerd. And as Brainerd grew,
it began to ship logs, lumber, and farm produce to
the outside world.

In 1873 the town became the seat of Crow Wing
County. And in 1881 it became the county's financial center when this FIRST NATIONAL BANK was
organized.

IGNORANCE, POVERTY, MENACE SOCIAL LIFE

If All Children of America Could be Made Free from These Evils, Criminality Would Disappear

DARIUS A. BROWN IS SPEAKER

At Lyceum Theatre on Monday Evening—Describes Mooseheart and
Its Plans

Highlights in Darius A. Brown's Address

Ignorance and poverty are two great menacing evils of American social life. If all the children of American society could be made free from the dangers of these two insidious evils most of the criminality would disappear.

Many fathers when they die leave their children helpless in the social struggle, and it is from these that are recruited the unhappy persons of our social life.

The Loyal Order of Moose, through Mooseheart, Ill., is the pioneer in the greatest work—
the conservation of childhood and the making of real men and women and loyal citizens—for which men and women have banded together since the lowly Nazarene gave utterance to the words which have come ringing down the ages: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

The man who earns his bread in the sweat of his face and the captain of industry stand side by side in the Loyal Order of Moose and, inspired by the great work for helpless childhood, for the moment forget their industrial controversies.

We need more fraternalism in our
every phase and activity of life.
We need more fraternalism in our social relations, especially in our attitude towards the man and the woman who has made a false step.

We need to give more attention to the existence and correction of our own faults and less to the discovery and punishment
of those of our neighbor.

A disgrace to our civilization
has been the attitude of society
toward the female delinquent.

The government takes better care of hogs and cattle than it does of boys and girls.

The boy is the keystone in the arch of America's destiny; America's boyhood and girlhood are the bone and guarantee of its future.

The L. O. O. M. determined to consecrate the power, energies and activities to the idea that every boy and girl is entitled to at least a high school education and a vocation or trade and Mooseheart was founded.

The foregoing epigrams are a few of the many highlights of the great story of Mooseheart, Ill., the modern vonder of the world, told by Hon.
Darius A. Brown, a former mayor of Kansas City, Mo., speaking here under the auspices of the local lodge of the Moose.

A big audience at the Lyceum theatre heard this thinker and orator
with a real message tell of "The Men and Women of Tomorrow." Those who heard the masterful address and knew something about Mooseheart, its accomplishments, aims and purposes
know more today and those who did not know of Mooseheart are inoculated with the spirit of Moosedom and want to learn more about the marvelous and sensational school system which is blazing the way in the educational field.

Solves Social Problem

"I will speak in a perfectly frank,
straight-forward manner," said Mr.
Brown, at the beginning of his address, "on what I believe to be a solution of the social and industrial problems. I believe I know of a system which we might call an insurance, although it is not life insurance or sick and accident insurance, by which any honest working man may, within his means, know for a certainty that no matter what may happen to him or his wife, his children will never know
the pain of poverty nor the ignominy
of ignorance."

Moose Developed the System

He said in part: "This system of social insurance has been worked out by the L. O. O. M., one of the greatest fraternities of the world. The Moose have developed the system and the credit is due the Moose, not only of having the protection in operation

as a shelter over the heads of millions of children but as well this great organization can point with pride to a thousand or more boys and girls who have, through this plan, been lifted from the depths and started on their way to the right, the true and the beautiful.

"Although we Americans eat better food, wear better clothes, live in better furnished homes and enjoy more comforts, conveniences and luxuries than anybody else in God's earth, yet
we are brought face to face with facts and statistics which force the blush
of shame to the cheek of every real American. In the operation of the draft law it was found that 29 per cent of the boys of the land were physically and mentally unfit for the service of their country in their time of need. A disgracefully large percentage were unable to read and write the language of their country.
Seventy-five per cent of all arraignment before our criminal courts are of boys under the age of 21 years.
One boy in every three is in need of medical attention. Sixty per cent of our public school children are underfed and underweight. Four out of five receive only a grammar school education. Less than 10 per cent receive a high school diploma. Less than three per cent enter a college or university. Our government has a department of agriculture, but none for the youth.

The Widow's Cry

"Several years ago those who had charge of the welfare and destiny of the L. O. O. M. came to the conclusion that fraternal societies could not much longer justify their existence
by merely furnishing to their members selfish and individual benefits, advantages and pleasures, but if they were to continue to be a factor they must do something worth while to solve some of our great national problems. And so they determined to consecrate all of the power, the influence,
the assets and the eagerness and activities of the L. O. O. M. to the idea that every boy and girl is entitled to at least a high school education and a vocation or trade. They acquired an estate of 1,023 acres in the beautiful Fox River valley, 35 miles west from Chicago, with the privilege of acquiring more as necessity demands.

"In 1913 this beautiful estate, then a farm, was consecrated by a splendid address by Brother Thomas R. Marshall, Vice-President of the United States, and the next year the building of Mooseheart was begun, and children began to arrive at the institution that trains for life.

Keep Children in Good Health

"First in the Mooseheart scheme is the purpose of keeping children in a vigorous state of health. Mooseheart is perhaps doing more than any other institution or community in developing her children to perfect types of manhood and womanhood. A constant, supervision, scientific reading and a free, out of door life, in accordance with the fixed and definite laws

No Pay Student Admitted

"I think the chief glory of the work is that no pay student enters Mooseheart, that only those are admitted who, by reason of death of father or financial adversities are deprived of the advantages of environment, education and training.

"The children have very comfortable conditions, housing, food, clothing, school and amusements. They are free from any fear of poverty and suffering.

"One of the main objects of the Mooseheart plan is vocational training, that is making the boy or girl proficient in some useful vocation, trade or calling. Mooseheart has from the beginning made vocational training its aim. There are now in the school 30 useful vocations, trades and crafts, including agricultural pursuits.
The children select the vocation they are interested in.

The Moral Training

"Another important element at Mooseheart is the moral training. If nothing else was being accomplished
this alone would be worth all the effort. At Mooseheart every boy and girl, as they approach that critical period, are given individually and collectively the most careful instruction in sex hygiene and knowledge of themselves.

The Religious Training

"Every boy and girl at Mooseheart has an opportunity for religious training in the faith of his or her parents.
One thing can be said of the city of Mooseheart that perhaps cannot be truthful said of any other city in the United States or in the world, that on each Sunday every child who is physically able attends Sunday school or divine worship.

No Corporal Punishment

An Appreciation

To the Editor of the Brainerd, Dispatch:
Through the columns of your paper permit me, in behalf of the American Sunday School Union, to express by appreciation to the good friends in and about Brainerd for the very happy time we have had in the privilege of being in your town.
I want especially to make mention of the courtesies extended to us by the pastors of the various churches, the Brainerd Dispatch for its part in publishing such splendid reports of our sessions; to the Chamber of Commerce for the banquet and for the excursion over the Cuyuna range; to the friends in Brainerd for entertaining our missionaries; and to the Methodist Episcopal church for the use of their building in which to hold the conference.

I have been interested in conferences for twenty-two years, and we can say that in no place have we been more royally entertained and more cordially received.

In return for these unusual considerations we promise to try to represent you on the frontier in the interests of the church where you cannot go. We believe that in doing so we shall not only be building up the country but contributing largely to the growth and moral development of your town. In no perfunctory way do I heartily thank you one and all.
Cordially yours,

IGNORANCE, POVERTY, MENACE SOCIAL LIFE

If All Children of America Could be Made Free from These Evils, Criminality Would Disappear

DARIUS A. BROWN IS SPEAKER

At Lyceum Theatre on Monday Evening—Describes Mooseheart and Its Plans

Highlights in Darius A. Brown's Address

Ignorance and poverty are two great menacing evils of American social life. If all the children of American society could be made free from the dangers of these two insidious evils most of the criminality would disappear.

Many fathers when they die leave their children helpless in the social struggle, and it is from these that are recruited the unhappy persons of our social life.

The Loyal Order of Moose, through Mooseheart, Ill., is the pioneer in the greatest work—the conservation of childhood and the making of real men and women and loyal citizens—for which men and women have banded together since the lowly Nazarene gave utterance to the words which have come ringing down the ages: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

The man who earns his bread in the sweat of his face and the captain of industry stand side by side in the Loyal Order of Moose and, inspired by the great work for helpless childhood, for the moment forget their industrial controversies.

We need more fraternalism in our every phase and activity of life. We need more fraternalism in our social relations, especially in our attitude towards the man and the woman who has made a false step.

We need to give more attention to the existence and correction of our own faults and less to the discovery and punishment of those of our neighbor.

A disgrace to our civilization has been the attitude of society toward the female delinquent.

The government takes better care of hogs and cattle than it does of boys and girls.

The boy is the keystone in the arch of America's destiny; America's boyhood and girlhood are the bone and guarantee of its future.

The L. O. O. M. determined to consecrate the power, energies and activities to the idea that every boy and girl is entitled to at least a high school education and a vocation or trade and Mooseheart was founded.

The foregoing epigrams are a few of the many highlights of the great story of Mooseheart, Ill., the modern wonder of the world, told by Hon. Darius A. Brown, a former mayor of Kansas City, Mo., speaking here under the auspices of the local lodge of the Moose.

A big audience at the Lyceum theatre heard this thinker and orator with a real message tell of "The Men and Women of Tomorrow." Those who heard the masterful address and knew something about Mooseheart, its accomplishments, aims and purposes know more today and those who did not know of Mooseheart are inoculated with the spirit of Moosedom and want to learn more about the marvelous and sensational school system which is blazing the way in the educational field.

Solves Social Problem

"I will speak in a perfectly frank, straight-forward manner," said Mr. Brown, at the beginning of his address, "on what I believe to be a solution of the social and industrial problems. I believe I know of a system which we might call an insurance, although it is not life insurance or sick and accident insurance, by which any honest working man may, within his means, know for a certainty that no matter what may happen to him or his wife, his children will never know the pain of poverty nor the ignominy of ignorance."

Moose Developed the System

He said in part: "This system of social insurance has been worked out by the L. O. O. M., one of the greatest fraternities of the world. The Moose have developed the system and the credit is due the Moose, not only of having the protection in operation as a shelter over the heads of millions of children but as well this great organization can point with pride to a thousand or more boys and girls who have, through this plan, been lifted from the depths and started on their way to the right, the true and the beautiful.

"Although we Americans eat better food, wear better clothes, live in better furnished homes and enjoy more comforts, conveniences and luxuries than anybody else in God's earth, yet we are brought face to face with facts and statistics which force the blush of shame to the cheek of every real American. In the operation of the draft law it was found that 29 per cent of the boys of the land were physically and mentally unfit for the service of their country in her time of need. A disgracefully large percentage were unable to read and write the language of their country. Seventy-five per cent of all arraignment before our criminal courts are of boys under the age of 21 years. One boy in every three is in need of medical attention. Sixty per cent of our public school children are underfed and underweight. Four out of five receive only a grammar school education. Less than 10 per cent receive a high school diploma. Less than three per cent enter a college or university. Our government has a department of agriculture, but none for the youth.

The Widow's Cry

"Several years ago those who had charge of the welfare and destiny of the L. O. O. M. came to the conclusion that fraternal societies could not much longer justify their existence by merely furnishing to their members selfish and individual benefits, advantages and pleasures, but if they were to continue to be a factor they must do something worth while to solve some of our great national problems. And so they determined to consecrate all of the power, the influence, the assets and the eagerness and activities of the L. O. O. M. to the idea that every boy and girl is entitled to at least a high school education and a vocation or trade. They acquired an estate of 1,023 acres in the beautiful Fox River valley, 35 miles west from Chicago, with the privilege of acquiring more as necessity demands. "In 1913 this beautiful estate, then a farm, was consecrated by a splendid address by Brother Thomas R. Marshall, Vice-President of the United States, and the next year the building of Mooseheart was begun, and children began to arrive at the institution that trains for life.

Keep Children in Good Health

"First in the Mooseheart scheme is the purpose of keeping children in a vigorous state of health. Mooseheart is perhaps doing more than any other institution or community in developing her children to perfect types of manhood and womanhood. A constant, supervision, scientific reading and a free out of door life, in accordance with the fixed and definite laws of nature are producing a normal growth and physical fitness.

No Pay Student Admitted

"I think the chief glory of the work is that no pay student enters Mooseheart, that only those are admitted who, by reason of death of father or financial adversities are deprived of the advantages of environment, education and training.

"The children have very comfortable conditions, housing, food, clothing, school and amusements. They are free from any fear of poverty and suffering.

"One of the main objects of the Mooseheart plan is vocational training, that is making the boy or girl proficient in some useful vocation, trade or calling. Mooseheart has from the beginning made vocational training its aim. There are now in the school 30 useful vocations, trades and crafts, including agricultural pursuits. The children select the vocation they are interested in.

The Moral Training

"Another important element at Mooseheart is the moral training. If nothing else was being accomplished this alone would be worth all the effort. At Mooseheart every boy and girl, as they approach that critical period, are given individually and collectively the most careful instruction in sex hygiene and knowledge of themselves.

The Religious Training

"Every boy and girl at Mooseheart has an opportunity for religious training in the faith of his or her parents. One thing can be said of the city of Mooseheart that perhaps cannot be truthful said of any other city in the United States or in the world, that on each Sunday every child who is physically able attends Sunday school or divine worship.

MISSIONARIES CLOSED CONFERENCE IN CITY TODAY

Rev. Fred Ohms, pastor of the Evangelical Association. The big features of the morning session were the papers upon Group Gatherings, read by C. H. Cottam of Livingston, Mont.; Our Standard of the Rural Sunday School, by O. R. Braw, of LaMoure, N. D.; Advertising and Organizing Our Work, by H. H. Flaming, of Glasgow, Mont.

The American Sunday School Union is pursuing the course of all good business houses in that it wishes the general public to know about its work. The men throughout the district are using the printed page as never before, believing that it is the best medium in American life today to carry intelligent information to the reading public and the open mind of childhood.

The place of conference for next year has not been decided upon; it will probably be taken to some central place in North Dakota, at which time Mr. Ferris expects to have 35 missionaries in his district.

An Appreciation

To the Editor of the Brainerd Dispatch: Through the columns of your paper permit me, in behalf of the American Sunday School Union, to express by appreciation to the good friends in and about Brainerd for the very happy time we have had in the privilege of being in your town. I want especially to make mention of the courtesies extended to us by the pastors of the various churches, the Brainerd Dispatch for its part in publishing such splendid reports of our sessions; to the Chamber of Commerce for the banquet and for the excursion over the Cuyuna range; to the friends in Brainerd for entertaining our missionaries; and to the Methodist Episcopal church for the use of their building in which to hold the conference.

I have been interested in conferences for twenty-two years, and we can say that in no place have we been more royally entertained and more cordially received.

In return for these unusual considerations we promise to try to represent you on the frontier in the interests of the church where you cannot go. We believe that in doing so we shall not only be building up the country but contributing largely to the growth and moral development of your town. In no perfunctory way do I heartily thank you one and all.

Cordially yours,

SENATOR BORAH'S GROUCH

Senator Borah's untimely assertion that President Harding's frank admission that general disarmament may not prove possible at this time is an unfortunate attempt to dampen the nation's enthusiasm on the coming international conference occasions no surprise—coming from Borah. Senator Borah is always nursing a grouch; and as a rule no one pays any attention to what he says.

President Harding is a practical man—not a visionary idealist. He has no desire, and Borah well knows it, "to lead people to expect little or nothing of the conference," as Borah says, but he does wish to avoid, if possible, disappointing many who may be led, by Borah and others, to expect entirely too much of it.

Before any nation can itself embark on a program of disarmament, it must, for the protection of its own life and for its own perpetuity, have a workable agreement with the other nations of the world, that they too, in the same ratio, will disarm themselves. Under present conditions of human nature it would be suicidal for any country to disarm itself while others were continuing in their great programs of raising further armies and greater navies. There must be a mutual agreement, guaranteed in such a way that it will be honestly and thoroughly carried out.

Such an agreement President Harding is seeking to reach as between the principal nations at least in the coming conference. There is no purpose to set up over the nations of the world a super-governing power. Whatever is done in the way of bringing peace to the world will be by mutual agreement and on a definite understanding as to the part each nation must take in carrying out the recommendations of the conference.

The American delegates may be depended upon to do everything that is right and proper to secure such an agreement. But President Harding does not wish to encourage extravagant expectations that may, and probably will, utterly fail of realization, and be followed by bitter disappointment and general dissatisfaction. He simply wishes the people to fully realize conditions as they are and not take it for granted that there is any certainty of general disarmament at this time.

"SUPREME COURT OF INDUSTRY"

The Senate Education and Labor committee has under consideration legislation to establish a Federal tribunal of industrial relations, to bring capital and labor into more harmonious action. Chairman Kenyon, it is understood, suggested such a tribunal.

A Federal "supreme court of industry" is proposed by this plan, the decrees to be enforced by public opinion and not through penal statutes. That would be an innovation, at least. The committee contemplates the enactment of an industrial code, defining unquestioned rights of both labor and capital. This code would grant rights of collective bargaining, peaceful picketing, and immunize non-union men from interference. A fundamental of the plan, and its only compulsion statute, says Senator Kenyon, would be the prohibition of strikes during periods of investigation by the Federal tribunal.

There are many people, however, who will have grave doubts of satisfactory results from a court of this kind without power to make its decisions obligatory upon both capital and labor, in view of the disregard for official government action that has been manifested upon several occasions recently.

COST OF PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

The Treasury Department has recently made public some interesting figures, which show that President Harding costs the people of the United States just 2½ mills each a year, or a total of less than a quarter of a million dollars a year. It is pointed out that over in England King George costs the British Empire $2,500,000 a year, and is having trouble making ends meet, from all accounts from London town.

It is claimed that President Harding is the most economical executive in the world. The current expenses of the President and his office force this year will total about $216,000, according to the Treasury Department records. This includes $75,000 for the President's salary, $25,000 for traveling expenses, $30,800 for office expenses, and $35,000 for contingencies. It is understood, however, that Mr. Harding is planning to reduce this total in line with the policy of economy which he has prescribed for the government departments.

"CLEAN DANCE WEEK"

Chicago, wicked Chicago, the bootleggers' paradise, is to have a "clean dance" week, to start Nov. 28. The Chicago Vigilance association, recently organized, declares that the "one spot wiggles" must go. The plan of this organization, which will have charge of the campaign during "clean dance week," as explained by Rev. William Burgess, executive secretary of the association, "is to bring back clean dancing and substitute it for the immoral motions now seen on dance floors." The Vigilantes claim that they have the dancing masters with them.

A FAIRER TAX SYSTEM

The Belle Plaine Herald, discussing the motor car tax in the states of Oregon and Washington, where a tax is made on gasoline consumption, one cent being added to the price of every gallon purchased by the motorist, which goes into the road fund, comments as follows:

"By this method the people who use the roads constantly pay in proportion to the road usage by the occasional driver. It seems a fairer method than ours. It eliminates all the absurdities of list price changes and depreciation reductions. It would simplify the whole process of tax collection and make road usage the basis of one's share of the cost of road upkeep."

Referring to Postmaster Hays' request for criticism of the Postoffice Department, the Minneapolis Journal aptly remarks that Col. Burleson has a lot of left-over criticisms that he would be willing to dispose of at half price.

The amount of food supplies in cold storage in Minnesota on Sept. 30 was 19,861,668 pounds, almost 3,000,000 pounds less than a year ago. The decrease in September was 3,889,613 pounds.

AMUSEMENTS

Ralph Conner's Famous Story "The Foreigner" at Lyceum Tonight

In "God's Crucible," which opened at the Lyceum Theatre yesterday afternoon all followers of the motion picture will find everything which they demand in screen entertainment. First of all there is the story which is as fast-moving as one could possibly wish and ranging from melodrama of the deepest dye to tender love passages perfectly handled.

And what a cast it is! Wilton Lackaye, who plays "Michael Kalmar," was never more forcefully dramatic, while Gaston Glass, the juvenile whose work contributed so largely to the success of "Humoresque," will win many new followers by his splendid playing of the role of "Ivan Kalmar."

Bert Lytell in "The Mislending Lady" at Lyceum Wednesday and Thursday

"The Mislending Lady," a special production which will run as the feature picture at the Lyceum Theatre for 2 days, beginning tomorrow is of unusual interest, since the leading part in this play, which can be called a cave-man picture with an adroit twist, is taken by Bert Lytell.

This talented actor has appeared in a number of screen productions and in none has he failed to impart a decidedly brilliant atmosphere through his characterizations, which are always a departure from the expected and the usual. It is said that in this picture, where he is a woman-hater who suddenly takes it into his head to teach a society girl what primitive emotion really is, he surpasses even his past efforts—and they were exceptionally good.

"The Mislending Lady" is a picturization of a famous New York stage success of the same name, which had such a vogue during its run.

Lillian Eubank

No singer who has not the love for athletics can last very long is the opinion of Lillian Eubank, the American Mezzo-soprano, whose appearance on the afternoon of October 23 will be in Park Theatre.

Miss Eubank comes from Texas where all young women live more or less in the open. From childhood this talented daughter from "The Lone Star State" has been able to ride a horse in pure cowboy fashion, and use a 44 Calibre Colt in a manner that any target within 200 yards range is subject to be punctured in the bull's eye. From the time she left home to study music Miss Eubank has never lived so far from a riding academy that she could not gallop in the park before breakfast. Any one who has seen Miss Eubank come to rehearsal at 10 o'clock could never say she complained about the earliness of the hour. In all probability she had been riding for an hour or more, returned for breakfast and rushed down to the opera house. After a long rehearsal she will go in for few sets of tennis. The way Miss Eubank plays tennis is no parlor game. She never seems to weary or get tired. One day some one asked her "Lillian, how do you do it?" "Do it," she replied, "that's easily explained; I do it because I am having a good time."

Industrial Rehabilitation

St. Paul, Oct. 18.—Representatives of 11 states were here today for a conference on industrial rehabilitation work.

Accomplishments of rehabilitation boards will be reviewed. Minnesota is the first state to provide for disabled soldiers' rehabilitation according to Oscar F. Sullivan, director of the state board.

E. G. Hall, president of the Minnesota Federation of Labor and P. A. Duxbury industrial commissioner, are among the speakers today.

This is the first conference of its kind ever held.

SENATOR BORAH'S GROUCH

Senator Borah's untimely assertion that President Harding's frank admission that general disarmament may not prove possible at this time "is an unfortunate attempt to dampen the nation's enthusiasm on the coming international conference" occasions no surprise—coming from Borah. Senator Borah is always nursing a grouch; and as a rule no one pays any attention to what he says.

President Harding is a practical man—not a visionary idealist. He has no desire, and Borah well knows it, "to lead people to expect little or nothing of the conference," as Borah says, but he does wish to avoid, if possible, disappointing many who may be led, by Borah and others, to expect entirely too much of it.

Before any nation can itself embark on a program of disarmament, it must, for the protection of its own life and for its own perpetuity, have a workable agreement with the other nations of the world, that they too, in the same ratio, will disarm themselves. Under present conditions of human nature it would be suicidal for any country to disarm itself while others were continuing in their great programs of raising further armies and greater navies. There must be a mutual agreement, guaranteed in such a way that it will be honestly and thoroughly carried out.

Such an agreement President Harding is seeking to reach as between the principal nations at least in the coming conference. There is no purpose to set up over the nations of the world a super-governing power. Whatever is done in the way of bringing peace to the world will be by mutual agreement and on a definite understanding as to the part each nation must take in carrying out the recommendations of the conference.

The American delegates may be depended upon to do everything that is right and proper to secure such an agreement. But President Harding does not wish to encourage extravagant expectations that may, and probably will, utterly fail of realization, and be followed by bitter disappointment and general dissatisfaction. He simply wishes the people to fully realize conditions as they are and not take it for granted that there is any certainty of general disarmament at this time.

"SUPREME COURT OF INDUSTRY"

The Senate Education and Labor committee has under consideration legislation to establish a Federal tribunal of industrial relations, to bring capital and labor into more harmonious action. Chairman Kenyon, it is understood, suggested such a tribunal.

A Federal "supreme court of industry" is proposed by this plan, the decrees to be enforced by public opinion and not through penal statutes. That would be an innovation, at least. The committee contemplates the enactment of an industrial code, defining unquestioned rights of both labor and capital. This code would grant rights of collective bargaining, peaceful picketing, and immunize non-union men from interference. A fundamental of the plan, and its only compulsory statute, says Senator Kenyon, would be the prohibition of strikes during periods of investigation by the Federal tribunal.

There are many people, however, who will have grave doubts of satisfactory results from a court of this kind without power to make its decisions obligatory upon both capital and labor, in view of the disregard for official government action that has been manifested upon several occasions recently.

COST OF PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

The Treasury Department has recently made public some interesting figures, which show that President Harding costs the people of the United States just 2½ mills each a year, or a total of less than a quarter of a million dollars a year. It is pointed out that over in England King George costs the British Empire $2,500,000 a year, and is having trouble making ends meet, from all accounts from London town.

It is claimed that President Harding is the most economical executive in the world. The current expenses of the President and his office force this year will total about $216,000, according to the Treasury Department records. This includes $75,000 for the President's salary, $25,000 for traveling expenses, $80,800 for office expenses, and $36,000 for contingencies. It is understood, however, that Mr. Harding is planning to reduce this total in line with the policy of economy which he has prescribed for the government departments.

"CLEAN DANCE WEEK"

Chicago, wicked Chicago, the bootleggers' paradise, is to have a "clean dance" week, to start Nov. 28. The Chicago Vigilance association, recently organized, declares that the "one spot wiggles" must go. The plan of this organization, which will have charge of the campaign during "clean dance week," as explained by Rev. William Burgess, executive secretary of the association, "is to bring back clean dancing and substitute it for the immoral motions now seen on dance floors." The Vigilantes claim that they have the dancing masters with them.

A FAIRER TAX SYSTEM

The Belle Plaine Herald, discussing the motor car tax in the states of Oregon and Washington, where a tax is made on gasoline consumption, one cent being added to the price of every gallon purchased by the motorist, which goes into the road fund, comments as follows:

"By this method the people who use the roads constantly pay in proportion to the road usage by the occasional driver. It seems a fairer method than ours. It eliminates all the absurdities of list price changes and depreciation reductions. It would simplify the whole process of tax collection and make road usage the basis of one's share of the cost of road upkeep."

Referring to Postmaster Hays' request for criticism of the Postoffice Department, the Minneapolis Journal aptly remarks that Col. Burleson has a lot of left-over criticisms that he would be willing to dispose of at half price.

The amount of food supplies in cold storage in Minnesota on Sept. 30 was 19,861,668 pounds, almost 3,000,000 pounds less than a year ago. The decrease in September was 3,889,613 pounds.

BANKERS' ADVICE PROVES WISE

Two more young men are glad they took advice from bankers and attended Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D., in order to qualify for bank positions. They are Ed Gregerson, recently made assistant cashier of the Burke Co. State Bank of Bowbells, and Leonard Miller, in the auditing department of the Bank of North Dakota.

Ralph Conner's Famous Story "The Foreigner" at Lyceum Tonight

In "God's Crucible," which opened at the Lyceum Theatre yesterday afternoon all followers of the motion picture will find everything which they demand in screen entertainment. First of all there is the story which is as fast-moving as one could possibly wish and ranging from melodrama of the deepest dye to tender love passages perfectly handled.

And what a cast it is! Wilton Lackaye, who plays "Michael Kalmar," was never more forcefully dramatic, while Gaston Glass, the juvenile whose work contributed so largely to the success of "Humoresque," will win many new followers by his splendid playing of the role of "Ivan Kalmar."

Bert Lytell in "The Misleading Lady" at Lyceum Wednesday and Thursday

"The Misleading Lady," a special production which will run as the feature picture at the Lyceum Theatre for 2 days, beginning tomorrow is of unusual interest, since the leading part in this play, which can be called a cave-man picture with an adroit twist, is taken by Bert Lytell.

This talented actor has appeared in a number of screen productions and in none has he failed to impart a decidedly brilliant atmosphere through his characterizations, which are always a departure from the expected and the usual. It is said that in this picture, where he is a woman-hater who suddenly takes it into his head to teach a society girl what primitive emotion really is, he surpasses even his past efforts—and they were exceptionally good.

"The Misleading Lady" is a picturization of a famous New York stage success of the same name, which had such a vogue during its run.

Lillian Eubank

No singer who has not the love for athletics can last very long is the opinion of Lillian Eubank, the American Mezzo-soprano, whose appearance on the afternoon of October 23 will be in Park Theatre.

Miss Eubank comes from Texas where all young women live more or less in the open. From childhood this talented daughter from "The Lone Star State" has been able to ride a horse in pure cowboy fashion, and use a 44 Calibre Colt in a manner that any target within 200 yards range is subject to be punctured in the bull's eye. From the time she left home to study music Miss Eubank has never lived so far from a riding academy that she could not gallop in the park before breakfast. Any one who has seen Miss Eubank come to rehearsal at 10 o'clock could never say she complained about the earliness of the hour. In all probability she had been riding for an hour or more, returned for breakfast and rushed down to the opera house. After a long rehearsal she will go in for few sets of tennis. The way Miss Eubank plays tennis is no parlor game. She never seems to weary or get tired. One day some one asked her "Lillian, how do you do it?" "Do it," she replied, "that's easily explained; I do it because I am having a good time."

Industrial Rehabilitation

MAMMOTH BIRTHDAY CAKE

Novel Display Signaling the Seventeenth Anniversary of H. F.

Michael Company

The H. F. Michael Co. is making a most novel display in their window. It is a mammoth birthday cake thirty inches wide, sixty inches long and eighteen inches high. It is properly decorated with seventeen candles showing the age of the store—the birthday of which is being celebrated.

This company has adopted a very novel manner of distributing this cake. On the last day of their celebrations, Saturday, October 29th, they will give a piece to every woman visiting their store. A number of metal discs will be found in the cake each one of which will entitle the finder to a cash prize.

It is a novel idea and it attracting no little attention.

Fans on Edge

St. Paul, Oct. 18.—St. Paul fight fans were on edge tonight waiting for the verdict in the fight between Mike Gibbons and Mike O'Dowd, scheduled at Wichita, Kansas.

The famous "Mikes" both of St. Paul, met two years ago, and fought one of the best bouts ever staged in the country according to fight experts. A majority gave the edge to O'Dowd who was then middleweight champion. Gibbons retired after that fight, but came back into the ring this year and has staged a more successful campaign than in previous years. He has a long list of victories, while O'Dowd has "gone back" in the last year. O'Dowd first met defeat at the hands of Johnny Wilson, who later defeated O'Dowd a second time, and decisively. O'Dowd has won and lost some minor fights since that time and the big question among St. Paul followers of the Mikes today, was: "Who is the best man now?"

A Few Suggestions—

Cream of Rye Muffins:

Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one pint milk, stir carefully with one cup white flour, add two cups CREAM OF RYE, one tablespoon melted butter and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat the whites of eggs until very stiff, stir this into the mixture carefully and add two teaspoons baking powder. Bake in muffin rings or gem pans in a quick oven 20 minutes.

Cream of Rye Cookies:

Two and one-half cups CREAM OF RYE, two eggs, one heaping cup granulated sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one and one-half tablespoons melted Crisco or butter (if butter, use one-half teaspoon salt instead of three-fourths with Crisco.) Mix well dry ingredients, then beat and add eggs, vanilla and melted Crisco and mix thoroughly. Let stand two hours before baking. Make into loose balls the size of a black walnut, place far apart in a well greased pan and bake in a moderate oven.

[Cream of Rye Bread:]

Take two cups of CREAM OF RYE and pour over the same two cups of boiling water. Let cool until lukewarm. Dissolve one-half cake either of dry or compressed yeast in a cup of warm water. Add to mixture one-third cup of molasses, one-half teaspoon of salt, the dissolved yeast, and stir in enough wheat flour to make a sponge. Cover and keep warm over night and in the morning knead with wheat flour thoroughly. When light, form into loaves and let rise again, then bake same as wheat bread. Must be well kneaded to make good bread.

Cream of Rye Tea Cakes:

Cream one cup butter and one cup granulated sugar. Add two well-beaten eggs, six tablespoons sweet milk, three-fourths teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon salt, sift two cups flour into the mixture. Add two cups of CREAM OF RYE and one cup of chopped raisins. Bake in a large pan lightly buttered; or bake same as cakes.

A Few Suggestions—
Cream of Rye Muffins:
Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one pint milk, stir carefully with one cup white flour, add two cups CREAM OF RYE, one tablespoon melted butter and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat the whites of eggs until very stiff, stir this into the mixture carefully and add two teaspoons baking powder. Bake in muffin rings or gem pans in a quick oven 20 minutes.
Cream of Rye Cookies:
Two and one-half cups CREAM OF RYE, two eggs, one heaping cup granulated sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one and one-half tablespoons melted Crisco or butter (if butter, use one-half teaspoon salt instead of three-fourths with Crisco.) Mix well dry ingredients, then beat and add eggs, vanilla and melted Crisco and mix thoroughly. Let stand two hours before baking.
Make into loose balls the size of a black walnut, place far apart in a well greased pan and bake in a moderate oven.
Cream of Rye Bread:
Take two cups of CREAM OF RYE and pour over the same two cups of boiling water. Let cool until lukewarm. Dissolve one-half cake either of dry or compressed yeast in a cup of warm water. Add to mixture one-third cup of molasses, one-half teaspoon of salt, the dissolved yeast, and stir in enough wheat flour to make a sponge. Cover and keep warm overnight and in the morning knead with wheat flour thoroughly. When light, form into loaves and let rise again, then bake same as wheat bread. Must be well kneaded to make good bread.
Cream of Rye Tea Cakes:
Cream one cup butter and one cup granulated sugar. Add two well-beaten eggs, six tablespoons sweet milk, three-fourths teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon salt, sift two cups flour into the mixture. Add two cups of CREAM OF RYE and one cup of chopped raisins. Bake in a large pan lightly buttered; or bake same as cakes.
